Mr. BUTLER shows also, that this contest s not alone for liberty in the South, but for liberty in all sections of the Union, and he absolutely discountenances all forms and schemes of retaliation, and appeals t our people to uphold the hands of our friends in the North who are endeavoring to bring to bear upon the extremely partisan senators the force of public opinion. His views, in nearly all respects, coincide with those repeatedly expressed by the Dispatch, and additional force is given them by the knowledge that nothing would be so helpful to Mr. Longs as an attempted

On this point the action of the Rich mond people has been characteristic of their well-known conservatism. The Atlanta proposition was never entertained here for a moment, nor does it seem to have been much favored at home, for the people of that city, in public meeting aspeople of that city, in public meeting as-sembled, have contented themselves with a firm and manly protest against the bill. unaccompanied by threats of any sort. It seems they fear that the very suggestion boycott is harmful. Savannah discouraged the idea from the start, and went to work in a far more practical way by adopting and mailing a circular-letter facts in the case, and aiming to enlist the latter in an effort to stay the hands of the Republican majority in the Senate.

Almost any change must be for the better, though it is so founded upon injustice and tyranny that to make it acceptable is impossible. The to make it acceptable is impossible. The fact that there are several liberal Republican senators whose votes are necessary to the scheme and whose opinions, therefore, must be consulted and conciliated, may have induced the majority to make con cessions in the work assigned to and done by Messrs, Hoan and Spooner. Senators Quay and Camenon (incredible

Can a Certificate Be Transferred-Doubt About the Increase of the Police Pay.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] PETERSBURG, VA., July 25, 1830. An interesting case was argued in the Hustings Court to-day in which the Judge will probably not render his decision for some time. The case came up on a motion to dissolve an injunction issued in the suit of T. A. Palmer (brought for the benefit of Frank Lesie's Rhustrated Newspaper intend going down to quarantine on the steam-boat Laura M. Starin to meet him. *

the payment of the plaintiff's claim.

The suit was brought to attach the property of the order in this State, and apply it to the payment of the claim. The claim is founded upon a benefit certificate for the sum of $1,000, which was issued to the plaintiff, Palmer, and assigned by him to
T. Crowder. He now sues for the benefit

NOT TRANSFERABLE. The Supreme Justice of the order in answer to a direct question, "Can a mem-ber of the Iron Hall transfer his certificate ber of the Iron Hall transfer his certificate to another, he assuming all dues and assessments and receiving all benefits?" decided that a certificate is not transferable, except in case of death, when it goes to the dependent friends of the deceased. This decison was approved by the Supreme Sitting and on this the defence is based.

The case was ably arrued by Mesars, Donnan and Hamilton and Wilsim P. McRae for the plaintiff and Mesars, Davis and McIlwatne for the defendants.

The history of the Methodist society (as it was called in 1790 in Leesburg, ran coeval with the history of Methodism in Virginia. The third American Conference held in 1775 recognized Fairfax circuit of which Leesburg was a strong Methodist centre, being the eleventh American circuit formed, and the third in Virginia. In 1776 this circuit contained about one half the membership of the whole Church, and in 1778 the sixth American Conference was held in Leesburg. The membership of the society at this date numbered 6,005.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

The present house of worship here was constructed one hundred years ago, and notwithstanding the storms of a century have fallen upon it, its walls to-day are firm and strong and the "old ship of Zion" stands in its venerable age a landmark of the long ago. In the church-yard sleep many of the older members, and some of theministers who labored within its sacred walls. Not a few families who worshipped here in days gone by have become extinct—at least in name, others have taken their places, and a new generation live and move in our midst. The ministers who have officiated in this church during the past century embrace in its list the names of many of the ablest and most distinguished of that denomination, some of whom were made bishops.

SPRING No. 3.

It will be seen from the analysis that this is a FERRUGINOUS or CHA-LYBEATE water. It will be readily understood that it is used for the most part in conjunction with the other waters and consequently that it has no udependent record, Dr. ROBERTS BARTHOLOW in his MATERIA MEDICA and THERAPEUTICS, under the head of "THERAPY OF CHA-LYBEATE WATERS," says: "The uses of these waters are the same as the purely medicinal preparations of IRON. They are indicated in CHLOROSIS and ANÆMIA to supply to the blood the material in which it is deficient. For this purpose the milder waters containing CARBONATE of IRON and CARBONIC ACID are most suitable." It will be observed that the IRON in this water is in the form of the CARBONATE. It is distinguished from CHALYBEATE WATERS generally in that it is a PURGATIVE WATER, Dr. Bartholow says: "The PURGATIVE IRON WATERS are useful in EN-GORGEMENT of the LIVER HEMORRHOIDS and DYSPEPSIA of ANÆMIC subjects, in ALBUMINURIA and DROPSY, NEURALGIA, CHOREA, CEREBRAL AN EMIA, and other NERVOUS DISORDERS due to an impoverished condition of the blood are much improved by the use of the milder CHALYBEATE waters. AMENORRHERA, HYSTERIA, and other Penvic DISORDERS, when dependent on ANEMIA, the PALUDAL CA-CHEXIA, LEUCOYTHEMIC EXOPHTHALMIC GOITRE, are either cured or decidedly ameliorated by CHALYBEATE waters."

This water not being offered for shipment has attracted but little attention. Its use, however, as an adjunct to the other waters here, has established its claim to be regarded as a POWERFUL REMEDIAL AGENT in many forms of CHEONIC DISEASE. Persons who cannnot use the preparations of IRON of the PHARMACOPŒIA or other mineral waters because of their astringent properties will find this adherent water admirably suited to their condition, and it is claimed with perfect confidence that SPRINGS Nos. 1, 2, and 3 of these SPRINGS present a combination of waters and advantages to the invalid which are not found elsewhere.
